THEATRE

54

The Freaky Friday musical was about a controlling mother and a punk daughter forced to be in each others' shoes — literally! After a magical hourglass is broken, their bodies were swapped, and they were forced to see each others' perspectives on one freaky Friday. Dania Houichime (9) and Vivian Stewart (12) played the leads Kathrine, the mother, and Ellie, the daughter. The show was performed in November with excellent reception. "It made everyone who would never meet otherwise come together," said Elizabeth Harges (11). The show had 20 songs and everyone on the cast came together to produce a great show for all of West High.

BEHIND THE SCENES

Although we never saw them on stage, the Stage Crew was crucial to the school's musical, the ELPer play and the one-act performance. Crew members assisted with lights, sound, curtains, and many other special effects that make a play come together. They worked very hard to make sure every show was perfect. They also helped make the set design perfect and beautiful for every play. Additionally, they would design costumes and props. Dressed head to toe in black, they assisted with moving sets and props swiftly on and off the stage. Our stage crew was good under pressure, hard working, and had great communication skills!

Cleaning Crew Lavendar Halai and Jahandre Mendez worked on cleaning up the auditorium after the school musical.

THE ONE ACT

The One Act was a play that West performed as part of the UHSAA (Utah High School Activities Association) Theatre competition. This year's play was Antigone, which is an ancient Greek tragedy about a scandalous family and their disastrous endings. The West High Theatre Company placed 3rd in the region.
