DRESS UPS

MON

WHITE LIES Students and staff wore a white shirt with a funny lie about themselves on it.

TUE

TEACHERS VS. STUDENTS Students dressed like teachers and teachers dressed liked students.

WED

ANYTHING BUT A BACKPACK students had to bring anything that functioned like a backpack to carry their stuff.

THU

THROWBACK Staff and students dressed up in the style of a decade they chose from the 1990's or earlier.

FRI

CLASS COLORS Students and staff wore their assigned color for Spirit Bowl.

SPRIT WEEK

For Spirit Week, each grade rallied behind a certain DreamWorks movie/franchise: seniors were Kung Fu Panda, juniors were How to Train Your Dragon, sophomores were Penguins of Madagascar, freshmen were Shrek, ELP was Megamind, and teachers were Spirit: Stallion of the Cimarron.

Student Government especially strove for inclusivity. Sophomore president NoraLena Christensen (10) explained, "We wanted to get people out of their comfort zone, and get people to join in and help meet others." Student Gov also spent lots of time brainstorming interesting, novel, but also accessible dress-ups. "We wanted everyone to be able to participate", said senior vice president Andres Perez (12).

Spirit and Rain from the Spirit franchise

In the months leading up to Spirit Week, Student Government worked on decorations before and after school, then ultimately pulled a 13-hour shift the Saturday before to assemble everything in the hall. They worked together to make sure each class was represented by their DreamWorks movie.

PRESENT!

The "Activity Hold" attendance policy impacted Spirit Bowl participation. Missing the weekly PAC (Plan, Advocacy, Community) class could risk your chances of participating in Spirit Bowl. Attending PAC class in the weeks leading up to the big event also gave students the opportunity to sign up for lunchtime and Spirit Bowl activities to represent their class, and each grade's PAC attendance rate even counted towards Spirit Points!

Shrek from, well, the Shrek franchise

MON

DODGEBALL Classes faced off against each other in a single-elimination bracket.

TUE

MUSIC QUIZ Clips of music were played for one second, and students guessed what DreamWorks film it was from.

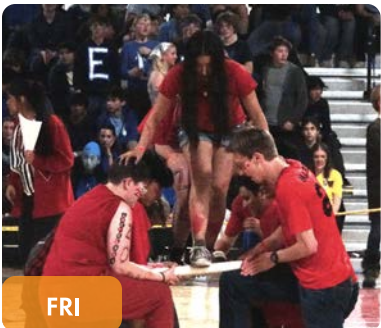

WED

HUNGRY HUNGRY DRAGONS Students scrambled on scooters to scoop up the most plastic balls from the floor.

THU

STUFF THE "W" Students stuffed as many people from their grade as they could into the "W" in the Fieldhouse.

FRI

Spirit Bowl!
